UW-Superior's Kunzelman Wins Player of the Week

SAINT PAUL, MINN. (December 15, 2009) – Melissa Kunzelman of UW-Superior has been named player of the week in the NCHA Women's Division for her outstanding performance in goal for the Yellowjackets last week. The senior turned away 87 shots over three games, going 2-0-1.

On Tuesday, December 8, Kunzelman (Brandon, MB / Crocus Plains) recorded a 28-save shutout against then #10 St. Thomas. The Yellowjackets were outshot 28-19, but Kunzelman made all the saves, including eleven in the 3rd period.

Last Friday Kunzelman was stellar again, this time posting 29 saves. Twelve of those saves came in the opening period, sparking UWS to an eventual 2-1 victory over Concordia-Wisconsin.

On Saturday she was at it yet again in another low-scoring game where goaltending was crucial. This time she posted 30 saves on 31 shots in a 1-1 overtime tie with CUW.

On the year Kunzelman has a 1.68 goals against average and a .934 save percentage in 607 minutes played. Last week she improved her GAA by nearly a half goal per game as well as raising her save percentage by nearly .15%.
