Adrian College accepted into NCHA

Saint Paul, Minn. (February 2, 2008) – Northern Collegiate Hockey

Association Commissioner Bill Kronschnabel announced today that Adrian College's application for membership in the NCHA women's division has been approved by the Chief Executive Officers of the NCHA-member institutions. Adrian's women's team will start play in the league this fall as part of the 2009-10 season.

Kronschnabel stated, "We are very pleased to welcome Adrian College's women's hockey program into the NCHA. The previous two-year scheduling commitment gave both Adrian and the NCHA the time to address the logistical challenges presented by Adrian's location in southeastern Michigan. The NCHA is proud to support the continued growth of women's ice hockey, and we look forward to Adrian's participation as a full member of our conference."

Adrian will join Marian University as part of the third expansion in the history of the women's conference, making a nine-team conference for 2009-10. Finlandia University joined in 2003 and Concordia University Wisconsin was admitted in 2007. The original five member schools, which started play in the 2000-01 season, were Lake Forest College, UW-Eau Claire, UW-River Falls, UW-Stevens Point and UW-Superior. The winner of the NCHA women's conference playoffs receives an automatic bid to the NCAA Division III tournament.

"It feels very good to be associated with a quality conference and all the benefits that come with it," said Adrian Athletic Director Mike Duffy. "The competition in the NCHA is some of the best in Division III and this move means great things for our women's hockey program."

Adrian College is located in Adrian, Michigan, about 70 miles southwest of Detroit and 100 miles southeast of Kalamazoo. The team is currently in the second year of a scheduling agreement with the NCHA and is ranked tenth in the latest U.S. College Hockey Online national poll. The Adrian men's team will continue to play in the Midwest Collegiate Hockey Association.
